Grant:

Per our discussion, here they are as best I could fill them in today. There are still some open items that I need to get with project leaders on, but I think the critical steps that you will need for Ken's purposes are addressed. If there is a task for which you need information on Tuesday that is missing, please call me. If I'm not at my desk, call my cell phone (334-6376). Items in red are highlighted for my own reference.

Just one additional point re the long term JLI study - the screening and enrollment has started, but it is not complete. So far, they've not enrolled as many study subjects as originally anticipated. However, those subjects that have been enrolled have started the clinical testing step. I was not able to talk with the project manager to try and come up with revised dates, so I just want you to be aware of this in pulling together information for Ken.

Thanks,
Valerie
